AIR FAILS 90 IN SUB TRAP

Four Britons Bob Up in 'Lungs'

Submarine Drama—Dim lights shadow the figures of 94 men in the submarine Thetis, sunk off the British coast. Slowly, four men adjust the Davis "lung," climb through a safety hatch, bob to the surface to take charge of other rescues. The scene above, taken from a recent motion picture made under Navy supervision, tells the story. The Davis "lung" is similar to our Momsen "lung."

4 ESCAPE SUB, AID RESCUE WORK

Plan to Chop Holes in British Boat to Free 90

BIRKENHEAD, Eng., June 2 (AP)— Admiralty officials expressed belief today that the Davis "lung" escape had been abandoned to preserve the air supply for 90 men still trapped aboard the partly submerged British submarine Thetis.

Four of the 94 persons aboard when the sleek new submarine dived into mud and sand below 130 feet of water in the Irish Sea had come to the surface strapped in the oxygen rescue masks.

But when no more men emerged in mid-afternoon, several hours after the last of the four to escape by the Davis "lung" method had been picked up, admiralty officials surmised that system had been suspended.

Rescue efforts were speeded up on the outside.

Early this afternoon (Boston time) admiralty officials announced the imprisoned men seemed to be weakening from lack of fresh air. Experts figured there was only enough air left to last until midnight (7 p. m., Boston time).

Naval experts hurried preparations to cut holes in the fin-like tail of the Thetis, glinting above the surface, while her nose lay in the mud.

PLAN HOLE FOR ESCAPE

They hoped to cut the holes above water at low tide early this evening to release foul air and to permit fresh air to be pumped in. It was hoped that eventually one hole could be widened so that the trapped men could be released through it.

Workmen already had scrambled by the submarine's slippery exposed at 50 when the Admiralty announced this afternoon that four naval officers not previously listed were aboard, making a total of 91 persons in the submarine at the time of the accident.

In addition to the four officers and the 58 officers and men of the Thetis' crew, it said, there were 30 men from Cammell Laird, Ltd., her builders; three employees of Vickers-Armstrongs, Ltd., engine manufacturers, one pilot and two civilian caterers.

SUB PARTY FLOODED

The admiralty disclosed that the forward part of the submarine, including the forward escape hatch, was flooded. All but 18 feet of the tail was submerged.

Admiralty experts explained that the Davis escape system probably had been suspended because each time it is used it lessens the amount of air in the submarine and also lets in a small amount of water.

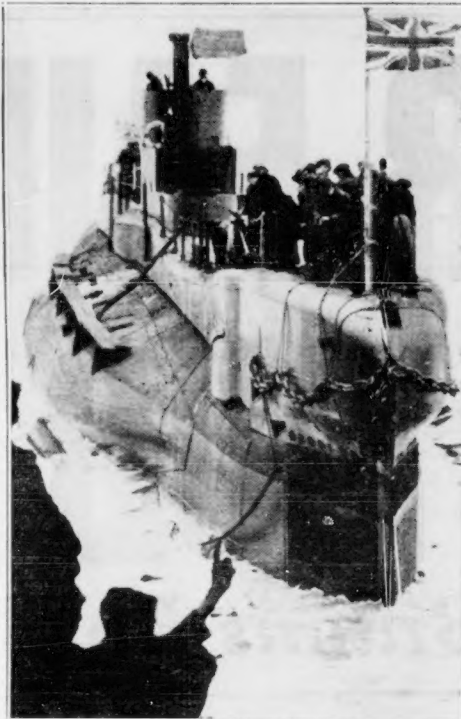

Divers established communication with the men inside by tapping on the hull during the afternoon and were told all were alive. Experts, however, reasoned that the men slowly were weakening from gradual deterioration of the air.

CONFIDENT OF SAVING ALL

The air supply was believed to be sufficient to sustain the men until about midnight (7 p. m. Boston time tonight).

The Thetis lay at an angle of

New Hitler Purge Hits Army Chiefs

LONDON, June 2 (INS)— Adolf Hitler today was reported by Mrs. Anthony Eden's Yorkshire Post to have launched a new purge of the German army high command to clean out more than 35 generals and minor officers allegedly opposed to Reich policies that might involve the nation in war.

The newspaper reported the purge was aimed particularly against: generals Loh, chief of industrial militarization; Guderian, of the air force college; Stiedgen, of the air force; Liehman, commandant of the war academy and the general commanding the fifth army corps.

It was not clear whether the "Loh" involved was actually the industrialist who was chief or possibly General Ritter Von Loh, who was one of the Reichswehr commanders during the Sudetenland occupation. Von Loh frequently was reported as opposed to the regime's military policies.

According to the Post, a renewed struggle has broken out between Nazi political leaders and German military chiefs. The newspaper recalled the previous conflict between these two forces in February, last year, in which the Nazi politicians triumphed with the dismissal of high officers.

The theory these officers were purged because of expressed or suspected opposition to Hitler's foreign policies as fraught with war danger, has since grown.

Wage Earners Band To Fight Governor's New Tax Program

From Provincetown to North Adams and from Great Barrington to Newburyport, Massachusetts wage-earners rolled up their sleeves today for a never-ending fight against Governor Saltonstall's new program of taxes.

On every front came a mighty protest against the Chief Executive's proposal to raise $50,000,000 in 1939 and 1940—a tax program which places a new premium on cigarette smoking and motoring. Their protests fell on sympathetic ears in the ranks of Democratic members of the House and Senate, as well as among many a liberal Republican.

"Soak-the-Poor" was the label immediately tagged to the Saltonstall plan.

It was so called by Senator Eugene A. Giroux of Somerville, Democratic minority floor leader, in pre-paring a bitter battle on the new tax plan in both committee hearings and on the floor of the House.

The Governor's message, calling for 10 new or increased taxes, was automatically referred to the joint taxation committee, which will announce hearings in due time.

"With the possible exception," Sen. Giroux declared, "of a couple of His Excellency's recommendations, the proposals can truly be dubbed a 'soak-the-poor' tax program."

The tax program calls for added levies on business income, on inheritances, on liquor and gasoline, for a new retail sales tax of two cents per package on cigarettes and an increase in the sur-tax imposed on interest and dividends, a raise from the present 10 per cent to 20 per cent. The present 10 per cent sur-tax on business incomes is to continue.

Roosevelt Bride's Baby Born Dead

Begun with such high hope only a year ago, the marriage of John Roosevelt and Anne Lindsay Clark was climaxed with sorrow today when a premature baby was born dead at Richardson House of the Lying-In Hospital.

The baby, a three-pound boy, was delivered stillborn at midnight by Dr. Charles G. Shedd of Bay State road, Back Bay, widely-known specialist.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, mother of John and wife of the President, made the announcement for the young couple.

Mrs. Roosevelt had started from Washington by train last night, on receiving word that Anne had been at the hospital since Wednesday and that a premature birth was feared.

Not until she had arrived at South Station and gone to the Statler Hotel, where she was met by John, did the First Lady learn the sad news.

John left then to return to Richardson House, where he had been all night, and his mother, after meeting the press and giving out the announcement, followed him.

'ANNE DOING WELL'

At Richardson House, Mrs. Roosevelt spent 55 minutes at Anne's bedside, then left the hospital with John, who appeared tired and whose face was haggard and apparently razor-nicked from a hasty shave.

Mrs. Roosevelt said Anne was "doing well" and was "as cheerful as she can be under the circumstances."

John was silent except to answer one question and his answer was to the effect that Anne's sister, Sally, had not yet called.

Mother and son then drove away from the hospital in John's car.

In Washington, on May 17 the President's wife had told a press conference that she expected to have a 10th grandchild, "probably in July."

As early as last January, Anne Clark Roosevelt was under observation at Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and while her ailment was not officially announced then during her stay of several days, it was understood that she was treating for a blood deficiency.

The loss of her first-born is the first break in the child line of the far-flung Roosevelt family and Mrs. Roosevelt appeared pale and strained as she made the announcement at the Statler.

First Lady Backs 'Working Wives'

Springing to the defense of working wives, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, said today in Boston that she hopes "we will not be stampeded" into allowing any drive against such wives to "get a hold on us."

Despite the shock of learning upon her arrival here from Washington that an expected 10th grandchild had been born dead, and prematurely, to Anne Lindsay Roosevelt, the First Lady answered a number of general questions put to her by the press.

This was after Mrs. Roosevelt, at the request of her youngest son, John, had met the reporters and announced to them the sad news regarding the birth.

WARNS OF STAMPEDE

In the matter of working wives, she asserted that "it would be very foolish" to allow a stampede against married women to get under way.

Numerous attempts throughout the country to ban married women from public service jobs, she said, could be attributed to "economic conditions."

Reporters also questioned Mrs. Roosevelt concerning the coming

Priest Drives On Sexy Books

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The national organization for decency in literature carried its campaign today its campaign against magazines it considers "off color."

The Rev. S. J. Ryder of Ft. Wayne, Ind., asked the House post office committee to approve a measure requiring periodicals to list publishers, editors and owners. Father Ryder said unscrupulous publishers of 400 to 500 "sexy" periodicals were "flooding the country with filthy and dirty literature."

IN HOSPITAL—Mrs. John Roosevelt, former Anne Lindsay Clark, today was confined in Richardson House of the Boston Lying In Hospital, where this morning her baby was born dead.

FIND STOLEN BABE; GIRL MOTHER, 21, ADMITS KIDNAPING

PHILADELPHIA, June 2 (AP)—A blonde, 21-year-old girl arrested on a charge of kidnaping five-month-old Gerald McCrohan from his carriage was quoted by Detective George Myers today as saying she took the child to replace her own who died.

The officer said the girl was unwed. Booked as Beatrice Wood, she told this story of the abduction after her arrest this morning with a man Myers found with the missing boy.

A son was born to her last March. He died, but she kept the news of the death from its father. When he demanded to see the boy, she stole Baby Gerald from his carriage while his mother shopped in a butcher store, went to the father and told him the child was theirs.

The girl poured out her story in a police station. She was arrested with a man booked as Frederick Bayers, 23. Detective Myers said he followed the girl from a drug store where the officer had been inquiring about recent purchases of baby food.

FOUND WITH BABY

Another detective found Bayers sitting in a park about two miles from the scene of the kidnaping. The baby was in the man's arms.

"That's my baby—thank God he's safe!" Mrs. Margaret McCrohan, 39, gasped when she saw the child.

Then she fainted.

Gerald's father and grandmother also identified the infant.

A short time previously Mrs. McCrohan had promised the kidnapers there would be no prosecution if the baby were returned.

The appeal was made shortly after Mrs. McCrohan and her husband, John, 32, a paint company employee attended mass where special prayers were said for the safety of the child.

Gerald was taken from his carriage on a busy street corner yesterday while his mother shopped in a store across the street from a police station.

ICE BOX AIR COOLS HUB

An "ice box" of cold air hanging over Canada kept the thermometer hovering in the middle sixties in Boston today, with somewhat warmer temperatures promised over the week-end.

With a gentle northeast breeze blowing the mercury was scheduled to slide down into the fifties tonight.

Fair weather was predicted for Saturday and Sunday morning with showers Sunday afternoon.

Due to the cold air over Canada, temperatures in parts of Maine reached as low as the lower thirties last night.

SYLVIA COHEN MRS. RAE WOLFE
'Heart Ailment,' He Says—'Heart Ache' for Her

WILLING TO WED, WHY SUE? HE ASKS

He never said he wouldn't marry her—so what's all the suit about?

Such was the question proposed to the court today as conclusion of the hearing of Miss Sylvia Cohen's $25,000 breach of promise suit—probably the last such litigation to be tried in Massachusetts—against Abraham Berg, her $75-a-week movie operator sweetheart from Dorchester.

Marry her? Yes, he had said repeatedly that he wanted to marry her. Did he ever say he wouldn't? No. But he was sick, and couldn't.

And on that note the hearing ended, with Judge Francis J. Good taking the case under advisement. Both sides had waived a jury.

GAVE HER $4000

Berg spent most of today's session under cross-examination, during which he told of all his aches and pains, including a pain in the neck after he and his burlesque girl friend took out a marriage license at Worcester, which was never used. During their courtship, he said, he gave her as much as $4000, maybe $4500.

And his attorney in his closing argument contested her right to sue, pointing out that she is an alien. Her own lawyer, however, cited cases which tended to show that she had such a right.

His aches and pains, Berg testified, made marriage impossible.

"What ailments," queried Attorney Francis P. Garland, counsel for Miss Cohen, "did you develop after May 19, 1938?"

LISTS HIS PLANS

"I had pains in the heart," said Berg, "pains in the neck, and pains in the back."

"Did you have pains in the neck when you took out the license in Worcester?"

"I had pains in my back and headaches."

"Do you know the difference between a pain in the neck and a headache?"

"Yes."

"Before you went to Worcester, did you have a pain in the neck?"

"No, sir . . . I had colds and coughs."

Miss Cohen seemed greatly amused by her ex-sweetheart's obvious discomfort during the cross-examination, and frequently suppressed coughs with a handkerchief.

PROMISED TO WED

The questioning continues: "Did you intend to marry the plaintiff when you took out the license?"

"Yes."

"As a matter of fact, all of these ailments developed after May 19, didn't they?"

"No, sir."

"Did you promise to marry the plaintiff?"

"Yes, I did—but I couldn't get married in bed. I told her just as soon as I got well we'd get married."

Miss Cohen, who lives in Dorchester, as does Berg, contends that Berg's family prevented their marriage.

Jail Plot Refuted By Lyman

Transfer of Harry "Tough Guy" Morgan and 11 other convicts from state's prison to the Norfolk prison colony was a reward of virtue, not a move to avoid trouble in Charlestown, Corrections Commissioner Arthur T. Lyman declared today.

"Tough Guy," once known as the scourge of the Boston Police Department, has reformed, Lyman said.

Central figure in a dozen prison scrapes and one dramatic fist fight in the detention pen in a Suffolk County court, Morgan has seen the error of his ways, according to Lyman.

"He realizes now that his antagonistic tactics were doing him harm, not good," said Lyman.

For the past few months, Morgan has been a model prisoner, and has been put in charge of the show-case setting forth for sale articles made by convicts, he revealed.

Morgan can appeal to the parole board in two years for release under parole conditions.

He has served seven years of a 15 to 21-year sentence for a series of armed robberies in and around Boston which netted him $400.

The Norfolk colony will be a virtual holiday resort for Morgan and his 11 companions, Lyman said. He declined to reveal the names of the other 11 convicts.

Morgan's wife is working near Norfolk and will find it easy to drop over for visits, he declared.

President's Cold Cancels Press Rally

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The nature of President Roosevelt's White House conference with Secretary of Commerce Hopkins and eight business leaders last night was left to speculation today when the President cancelled his Friday press conference.

The sinus attack, which forced the chief executive to spend most of yesterday in bed and to forego dining with his guests last night, caused him to call off his conference with reporters.

BARRED BY CUBA—Jewish refugees aboard the liner Saint Louis line deck for glimpse of Havana just before ship put out to sea on order of Cuban president.

JEWS' SHIP SAILS; FEAR MANY TO DIE

HAVANA, June 2 (INS)—With 917 despairing German Jewish refugees aboard, the Hamburg American liner St. Louis today steamed out of Havana harbor enroute back to Hamburg, Germany.

Refusal of Cuban authorities to permit the refugees to land left the captain with no alternative but to turn back, despite threats of "mass suicide" by the passengers and his own fears of mutiny on the high seas.

A correspondent boarded a launch and cycled the ship at dawn. Hardly a soul was visible on the decks. The refugees, who for 24 hours had lined the rails pleading with relatives and officials on shore to facilitate their landing and threatening mass suicide if forced to return to Germany, apparently had given up hope.

FEAR FOR 200 CHILDREN

A tender was sent to the St. Louis' side at daybreak in compliance with President Federico Laredo Bru's orders that the ship go under way today.

Late last night relatives of the refugees and throngs of curious workers announced plans for a demonstration before the presidential palace before the liner sails.

They were particularly concerned over the fate of the 200 children aboard if the fears of Capt. Gustav Schroeder, master of the St. Louis that mutiny on the high seas may occur, should materialize.

A port guard returning from the St. Louis said many of the refugees had not slept for two nights. Huddling nervously, worrying over their fate, many were weeping, but still hoping against hope they would be allowed to land.

LINE BOWS TO LAW

However, the decree of President Bru ordering the St. Louis to weigh anchor already had been published in the official gazette, and customs officials, after a conference with agents of the Hamburg-American Line, said the line would comply rather than fight the law. Earlier, Luis Glesing, the line's agent, sent a final petition to the president, saying:

"We were assured by Immigration Commissioner Manuel Benitez that the landing permit, which the St. Louis passengers bought were valid. The passengers came as transients or tourists."

"If they are classed as immigrants, all are ready to post a $500 bond each, a total of more than $150,000. The line promises to return as to their port of embarkation should the government decide to report them."

"If they are returned aboard the St. Louis, collective suicides and other disasters are almost certain."

Court Rules Refugees

Must Quit Costa Rica

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, June 2 (AP)—The Supreme court today ruled against 20 Jewish refugees who had been permitted to enter Costa Rica temporarily but had recently been ordered to leave.

The court rejected a plea for habeas corpus writ in behalf of the refugees, making an exception only in the case of a woman who recently became a mother.

Palestine Outbreak Brings Death to 13

JERUSALEM, June 2 (AP)—Thirteen persons were killed and scores injured today in Palestine disorders. Casualties included Britons, Jews and Arabs.

A railroad patrol of four British soldiers and three Jews was wiped out by an Arab band near Kaikileh, 35 miles northwest of Jerusalem. The outlaws seized a machine gun and other arms.

Six Arabs, including a policeman, were killed and a score injured when time bombs buried in the market place near Jerusalem's Jaffa gate exploded as thousands of Arabs were making their daily food purchases.

200 Tribesmen

LONDON, June 2 (INS)—Eight hundred members of the Mousand tribe were killed when 200 Arabs razed 14 villages in attacks on the Alauque district. Exchange Telegram today said it was reported in Jerusalem from Aleppo, Syria.

REVERE GAMBLING REVEALED

A busy day in a gambling resort was described by State Trooper Harold J. Pelquin before Judge Allan G. Butterick in Suffolk court today at the trial of fourteen, including ex-Mayor James M. O'Brien, accused of conspiring to operate the resort at Revere Beach in 1937. Trooper Pelquin testified that he gained admission to the Ruby Club in Centennial avenue, Revere, by a simple a procedure as producing his automobile driving license. He was then issued a card, which he signed, and was allowed beyond the barred outer door, which had a peephole in the middle of it.

Once inside, he said, he found himself in a room about seventy feet long, with a crap game table, a blackjack table in operation, and with racing charts and cashier windows along one wall. Amid such cries as "He's coming out," and "I'll fade for a flinnit," and "They're off in the first at Tropical," he managed to recognize some of the operators. These he identified in court today.

"Tootsie Jake" Stutman and Jacob Chansky were, he said, operating the crap table. Bernard Sochet seemed to be running the horse racing end of the room, while Louis Alpert was in the office. John H. Walsh, he said, walked over to the crap table, picked up a fistful of money and went into the office.

The five, as they were named in court today, blushed, stirred uneasily, then grinned.

Other defendants in this, the third Revere gambling trial, are Police Lieutenant Henry Tracy, Patrolman William C. Gibson, Robert McKay, Joseph Tateiman, Max Pollack, James Duval, Morris ("Pudgy") Rosen and Charles Shuman.

Ex-Chief of Police Tighe and Archie Engle will be state's witnesses. Six defendants defaulted.

CRIMSON RAPS VET HECKLERS

The Harvard Crimson, underground daily, today took up the cudgels for Cambridge in an editorial urging improvement in relations between the University and the city in which it finds itself.

Assailing students who heckled and sniped at the veterans' parades on Memorial Day, an editorial in the student paper declared that largely because of the incident, feeling between Cambridge and Harvard is at its worst in the 300 years of the university's history.

"Harvard and Cambridge are mated, even though they may be inimical," said the paper. "Reality says to each to make the best of it."

The Crimson showed no patience with the Memorial Day demonstration.

"The citizens have a right to protest over what happened," declared the editorial. "Such things cannot be explained away."

"Allowances can be made for wholesome high spirits, but no allowances are possible for such treading on the solemn emotions and ideals of other people."

"It is merely a question of decency."

20,000 to Parade In Dorchester

Plans were completed today for a parade of 20,000 marchers and 100 floats in tomorrow's celebration of the 300th anniversary of the settlement of Dorchester.

Governor Saltonstall, Lieutenant Governor Cahill and Mayor Tobin will participate in the exercises. The parade will be led by Edward W. Connors, Jr., 9, grandson of Chief Marshal Michael J. Connors, and will include scores of marching units and bands.

The parade will form in Codman Square, Dorchester, at 2:30 p. m. and will proceed over Washington, Bowdoin and Hancock streets to Columbia road, then over Stoughton and Pleasant streets to Savin Hill avenue, turning down Savin Hill avenue and ending in Fields Corner.

20,000 See Fight Television Broadcast

NEW YORK, June 2 (AP).—The National Broadcasting Company today estimated that approximately 20,000 persons watched and heard the first television of a major outdoor heavyweight battle last night when Lou Nova won a technical knockout over Max Baer.

A portable television transmitter set up at the edge of the press section in Yankee Stadium televised the action over Station W2XBS. Reception throughout the New York area was described as clear and bright, despite the absence of special lighting at the ringside.

Council Holds Key To Housing Project

After hearing tearful pleas of several South Boston women affected by slum clearance proposals, the Boston City Council held the key of authority today to approval or rejection of the Federal governments vast $191,000,000 housing plans.

At an executive session next Monday, the councilors expect to vote on the Federal proposal to spend that sum for slum clearance in Boston over a period of 10 years; a program designed to give adequate housing to 35,000 families. Of several hundred persons who stormed Faneuil Hall at a council hearing to determine the sentiment on the government's proposed extension of its housing projects here, 136 opposed further housing and 89 favored it. Only 225 of the throng recorded their views.

The pleading women lent a pathetic touch to the six-and-a-half-hour hearing, which was marked, earlier, with cat-calls, jeers and heckling of nearly everyone who spoke.

Weeping openly and unashamedly, Mrs. Anna Stackus, 57, of Vale st., South Boston, said she was being deprived of the only home she had ever known.

"My husband and I worked 16 years on small earnings to pay for our house," she said, tears streaming down her cheeks. "It is valued at only $2000. I was never approached by anyone in the housing authority. But I got a notice in the mail awarding me $1 for my house and was told I could go to court about it, if I didn't like it."

"I am old and my husband is old, too. This home is all that we had in the world. Now we don't know where to go."

PUT MORE LINES TO SQUALUS

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., June 2.—As seven of the Navy's expert divers worked to attach 16 more air lines to the sunken submarine Squalus today, survivors here expressed hope that the men now trapped in the English sub Thetis will be saved.

The British vessel is equipped with "lungs" similar to the American lungs which were held in readiness as possible escape devices for the trapped Squalus crew.

Members of the Thetis crew wore the lung device when they were rescued from the Irish Sea today. Word of the newest submarine disaster was received by radio aboard the U. S. S. Falcon after the divers had finished their day's work.

As Lieutenant Oliver F. Maguire, one of 32 Squalus survivors, now on duty in the navy yard here, heard first word of the sinking of the Thetis, his face became grim with sympathy for the men who are in the same position as he was eight days ago.

The Squalus must be brought to shallow water through use of the air lines to facilitate use of the pontoons, ready for service aboard the rescue ship Falcon.

The divers were using compressed air after their supply of helium gave out. A new supply was brought in by a coast guard picket boat and will be used today for the helium-oxygen mixture which enables divers to remain longer under water.

Heavier anchors were in use today to hold the Falcon in position. Secured from the light-house service department, these anchors, when dropped to sea bottom, will enable the Falcon to leave the scene and return without losing the exact position of the submarine.

Meanwhile, announcement was made that the launching of the new submarine Benavon on June 21 will be private. Because of the recent Squalus tragedy, plans for a public demonstration were abandoned.

Films' Honors Given May Robson and 6

LOS ANGELES, June 2 (AP).—Fifty-six years of achievement on the stage and screen won May Robson citation from the American Institute of Cinematography.

Honored at the institute's annual banquet for outstanding accomplishments during 1938 were Producers John W. Considine, Jr., Jack L. Warner and Gabriel Pascal; Actor Nelson Eddy; Actress Norma Shearer and Director Sam Wood.

Car-Hop Cuties Defy Union Ban, Stick to Shorts

HOUSTON, June 2 (AP).—Cuties in shorts and grass skirts shone hard today in defiance of the waiters' union ban on scanty costumes. Drive-in sandwich shops did a land office business.

On the side of convention and the union waiters were the town's churchwomen, who said it was high time the carhop waitresses donned more ladylike raiment.

The union head, Jack Parmley, gave the 300 girls' employers "two or three days" in which to do something about more pay and more clothes for the car-hop lassies.

"These girls wear shorts or grass skirts, rain or shine," Parmley said. "Why, their clothing is next to nothing."

OLDEST R. O. T. C. PARADES

GLOUCESTER, June 2—Amid the cheers of sweethearts, parents and neighbors, the Gloucester High school regiment, R. O. T. C., oldest high school military organization in the United States, held its 54th annual Field Day at Newell Stadium today.

The event was featured by a parade of the regiment of five companies through the city streets to the Stadium, where company, platoon and individual competitive drills for medals and trophies were held.

The entire regiment was decorated, with its colors, by the U. S. Army, through Col. Clyde Sellick, First Corps Area officer, for the 19th consecutive year, for winning of first prize in annual inspections by army officers, a record duplicated by no other high school in the country.

Another record not even approached by any other school was the award of the William Randolph Hearst Rifle and Marksmanship Trophies, won by the school for the 8th time in nine years. The rifle teams took first and third prizes in a nation-wide team competition.

Ernest Heftzyer, advertising director of the Boston Record, Evening American and Sunday Advertiser, presented the trophies.

Loud Wails Greet
New Tax Program

The loudest howl of opposition since the time a group of Bostonians protested the proposed new federal income tax law, which would increase the rate on the first $10,000 of income from 15 to 20 percent, was heard today in the city.

Mr. H. H. Knopf, president of the S. H. Knopf Mfg. Co., one of the country's largest manufacturers of leather wearing apparel, today expressed his opposition to the new tax law.

"They'll be taxing the air we breathe next. It wouldn't surprise me in the least to see the government whether federal, state or city, issue an air meter to measure the air we inhale."

"How far do they think they can go with this taxation and still retain a democratic country? I'm averaging a little better than $2000 a year now, but with the state incomes down the line to $1400 my wife and child no longer can offer me exemptions."

"Furthermore living costs are bound to rise which means sales won't and my salary drops. If I make money it's taken away by taxes of one kind or another. If I don't make a taxable salary I suffer anyhow."

"Neither the state nor the federal government can tax the country up to its economic doings," was the opinion expressed by Sumner H. Knopf of Brookline, president of the S. H. Knopf Mfg. Co., one of the country's largest manufacturers of leather wearing apparel.

"It's in that—to some persons an enviable class of having an annual income of more than $5000," stated Mr. Knopf.

"My company has expanded greatly in the past ten years. But I don't drive a more expensive car. I still live in the home I've owned during that period. All the expansion has gone to provide more jobs and better working conditions for the employees."

"The federal government takes a good slice of a man's income in the upper brackets. Now the state wants a better share. If it would solve the economic problem of running the state they would be welcome to a little more of my money, but it won't. That's been proven before."

"Excessive taxation is surely removing all inducement for anyone to run a successful business. A fair minded business man makes money not only for himself, but for hundreds of his employees."

Albert J. Jordan, 30, of Dedman, was quite bitter about both the increased business tax and the revised income tax.

His stint of brain and muscle Jordan, who is married and father of a young child, managed to build a small market trucking business that nets him $2300 a year. He operates the only truck business in the city.

"As soon as a man gets his head above water somebody whacks the tax stick over it and he flounders around again," complained Albert.

ASSURED OF PEACE, POPE SAYS

VATICAN CITY, June 2 (AP)—Pope Pius XI today said that the world was assured of peace. He said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world. He said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world.

A month after the Pope had said that the world was assured of peace, he said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world. He said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world.

Answers to his peace appeals, he said, brought him information which has left the way open for further negotiations of our earnest substance.

With these plans, the Pope said, the world was assured of peace. He said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world. He said that the world was assured of peace because of the peace which had been established in the world.

TEN NEW STATE TAXES..

Gas, Cigarettes, Drinks, Small Business...

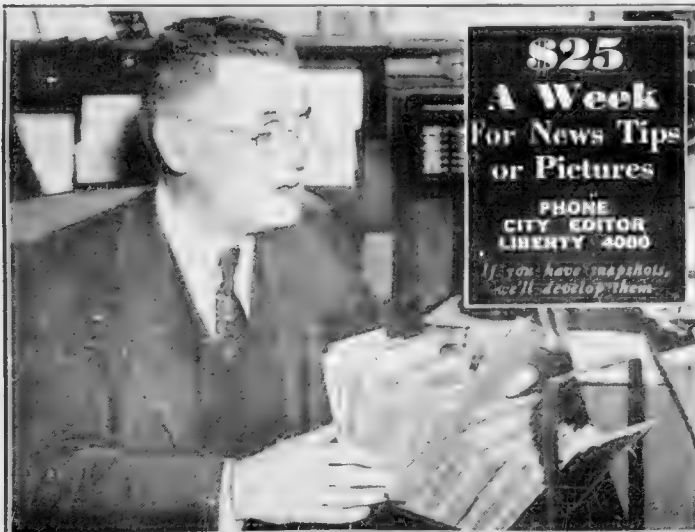

1. Drinks—John Kenney of Roxbury will find a lot less in his glass of beer if Governor Saltonstall's Ten-New-Taxes program goes through... for $3,000,000 extra is sought in liquor taxes during 1939-40.

2—3. Big $$

—Attorney Arthur Wasserman sees average man unaffected by (1) continuation of general surtaxes seeking $8,000,000 more in two years, and (2) increase in surtax on interest and dividends seeking $2,700,000.

6. Inheritances—Arthur W. Sullivan, clerk of Suffolk Probate Court, goes over a file of wills... all subject to the proposed tax program. Two year profit to state is expected to amount to $675,000... which brought up the idea that under the new program you won't be able to afford to live... or die.

7. Dog Racing—Dorothy and Geraldine Cude, Dorchester place two bucks on a purp... with the state already taking 7 cents out of the Under Saltonstall's new plan, they'll have to give up enough to state $1,500,000 more in two years.

...TO RAISE $50,625,000

...All Hit by Governor Saltonstall's Plan

4. Gasoline—James Smith of Revere now gets eight-for-a-dollar from Joseph Ricciardi, but if the $50,625,000 tax program is passed, he'll be lucky to get seven, what with paying a two-cent added levy . . . which will make the total tax six cents a gallon. Two year boost: $14,000,000

5. Cigarettes

—Alice Rooney of Roxbury gets her ciggies at two-for-a-quarter now from George Baker, but Governor Saltonstall will put an end to that if he is able to perpetrate his tax plan on Massachusetts. He wants a two-cent a package tax levied. To state in two years: $10,000,000.

8. Tax Exempt

—Samuel H. Knopf of Brookline sees himself hit by removal in "equitable degrees" of all business income tax exemptions of over $5,000 incomes.

9. Income Tax

—Louis Glen sees his concern, the S. H. Knopf Co., badly hit by business income tax boost of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2 per cent for 1939, 1 1/2 to 2 for 1940.

10. Small Business

—Albert J. Jordan of Dedham is bitter by the blow to little business that is expected to net state $4,000,000 next year by reducing exemptions from business income tax to $1400 per taxpayer, plus $500 for wife, $250 for child. Reduction this year? No one knows.

KING WON'T SEE RICHMAN SHOW

By Leonard Lyons

NEW YORK, Jan. 1.—The city's theater district is a place of many contrasts. It is a place where the past and the present meet, where the old and the new are constantly being tested and retested. It is a place where the past is not dead, but alive and well, and where the future is not unknown, but known and certain.

When the city's theater district is at its best, it is a place where the past and the present meet, where the old and the new are constantly being tested and retested. It is a place where the past is not dead, but alive and well, and where the future is not unknown, but known and certain.

Girl Hurt on Trapeze Sees Happy Birthday

For a girl who has been hurt on a trapeze, the birthday of a young woman who was injured in a fall from the trapeze, June 1, 1938, was a very happy one.

The girl, who is now 18, was injured when she fell from the trapeze at the Boston Athletic Association's annual show, June 1, 1938.

At the time of the accident, she was performing a stunt which was new to her.

"I am so happy to learn that I have so many friends," she wrote.

"And I am happy that when they let me go from here I can soon begin to practice again for the trapeze, and perhaps before the season ends I can go back to the show.

"I shall have to start so slowly at first, she says. "For a while I shall have to practise walking, before I can get used again to being the star process of getting back my strength."

"The letters and flowers from friends well wishers have meant so much to both of us," she says.

THE YOUNG MR. LINCOLN

Abe Maps Fight to Save Brothers From Gallows

THE MAN who had been called "The Young Mr. Lincoln" was not a young man. He was a man of middle age, with a face that had been weathered by the winds of adversity. He was a man who had seen the best and the worst of the world, and he was a man who had learned the hard way that the only way to survive was to fight.

He was a man who had been called "The Young Mr. Lincoln" because he had the look of a man who was a fighter. He was a man who had been called "The Young Mr. Lincoln" because he had the look of a man who was a fighter.

Two Society Girls Wed

Nick Anforth serenaded his wife, Nancy, with a solo of "Me and Marie," accompanied on the guitar by the straining singer who had previously entertained them with a couple of foreign songs.

Also glimpsed whirling around one of the two dance floors were Betty Calcutt, Anne Whipple, Leverett Tickerman, Jr., who joined Cynthia Woodward and Page Cotton at a ring-side table, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cordingley.

Crosby Film Honors to Baby--Crime Gem Has Strong Cast

Bing Croons Way Through Comedy at Keith Memorial

Scotty Hendille, Hollywood's latest star, steals the show from Bing Crosby in "East Side of Heaven" new screen feature at the Keith Memorial Theatre.

But Bing is the mind. For Sandy is only the months old, and the most engaging magnet in the world. He has a less entertaining nature. Sandy would be worth the money.

Phase of the film is a mild, to become the late of fun. Bing Crosby makes his way through the material as a messenger boy and then as a troubadour who finds a girl who is a less entertaining nature. Sandy would be worth the money.

Phase of the film is a mild, to become the late of fun. Bing Crosby makes his way through the material as a messenger boy and then as a troubadour who finds a girl who is a less entertaining nature. Sandy would be worth the money.

The plot has to do with the kidnapping of a baby but there is nothing grim about it. Bing and Miss Hendille are engaged to be married when the picture comes out. But the picture does not end there. Bing and Miss Hendille are engaged to be married when the picture comes out. But the picture does not end there.

Danny Bing Crosby and his roommate, Nancy, take a trip to the baby who has been kidnapped.

too hot. Denny goes to the mid-air and succeeds in getting a promise that the baby will be left with his mother. He takes the grandfatherly job of apartment, only to find that Sandy has been stolen.

Great complications arise when the light touch maintained throughout until it develops that a radio conversation passed by Jerome Cowan has discovered and kidnapped the baby.

It all ends up in a burst of all-round forgiveness and love and kisses. The young couple who had been estranged make up, with father's blessing and Sandy's approval. Denny gets a job singing on the radio, he and his girl get married and live happily and usefully, we trust, ever after.

If this sounds silly, it is merely because the plot is reduced to sentences. It is not a particularly novel. The film is comic, fast-moving and really worth seeing.

On the same bill, Peter Lorre appears in "Mr. Moto in Danger Island," another in the series of detective tales featuring the impetuous Oriental sleuth. This one is a thriller about a smuggling ring. Jean Harlow and Warren Hymer are in the cast.

FILMS AT GAYETY

Bogart, Halop Well Supported

In his usual role of a sinister gangster, Humphrey Bogart emotes convincingly in "You Can't Get Away With Murder," new bill at the Paramount Theatre.

The screen version of the stage play, by Warden Lewis Lawes of Sing Sing, has a realistic penitentiary setting and the script is packed with authentic details.

Bill Halop, erstwhile leader of the "Dead End" kids, provides the movie's suspense as the weak tool under Bogart's tutelage.

As Johnny Stone, Halop is led into a life of crime under the master mind of Wilson, played by Bogart. Embarking on a robbery career, they murder a pawnshop keeper. Subsequently they are arrested for a minor crime.

With Bogart as a prison companion, the youthful criminal has no chance to confess his part in the murder for which his sister's fiancée is sentenced to death.

Upon the confession of the crime, Halop hangs the part of the story. The climax comes with an attempted jail break plotted by Bogart.

It is a melodrama of prison life, developed with sure clever direction, and exhibiting excellent technique in the moral lesson the title implies.

As Halop's defense lawyer, Gale Page, plays a difficult and tearful role with ease. So does her fiancée, Harvey Stephens, who is the victim of Bogart's crime. The moral lesson is intended by Henry Travers as "Pop," a jail trustee who tries to save young Halop from the gallows by showing in doubt for the murder.

Other productions on the bill are "The Blue Danube" by Strauss; "The Swan" by Saint-Saens; "The Star-Spangled Banner" by Smith; "The Rose Tree" by Schubert; "The Blue Bird" by Dvorak.

At the Keith Memorial Theatre: "East Side of Heaven" with Bing Crosby and Scotty Hendille. At the Trans-Lux Theatre: "Rangle River" with Victor Jory and Margaret Dare. At the RKO Boston Theatre: "Panama Patrol" with George O'Brien and Betty Hutton.

Public Unusually Tax Conscious Now

It is true that extravagant governmental spending has been met, at least in part, at their expense, the lay public throughout the country is becoming unusually tax conscious.

However, such a conference should not be dominated by the federal government. It would be a mistake to work out any form of which would further undermine state rights.

trahization has quietly been doing something akin to John L. Lewis union "check off" in governmental affairs.

In a closed shop, it is extremely valuable to the union chiefs to have the "check off" function enables them to collect union dues.

As a result, a new coalition has been formed, and the popular opposition has been able to force the government to make a number of concessions. The government has been forced to pay dues automatically by passing money payments to make a legal payment-in-lieu.

The advantage of the new union heads is that it deprives members of the opportunity to express a negative attitude to the organization by refusing to continue to pay dues.

In governmental affairs, state aid to municipalities is subject to the "check off".

The local authorities tend to look upon the grant as a gift from the states, whereas in reality, the grant has been the existing agent.

BUSINESS TELLS RECOVERY PLANS

By WILLIAM S. NEAL

WASHINGTON, June 2 (AP)—The 100-day goal of $0 to 100 billion dollars in new investment from the U. S. Chamber of Commerce today produced a new momentum in Congress, one of them sagging in the Senate. The goal provided a breathing spell for business and the economy.

NEW GLOVED TERROR—A new White Hope zooms into the ring firmament as Lou Nova crushes Max Baer. Dramatic pictures tell, in sequence of rounds, how Baer's early confidence vanishes, agony follows, and he finally bows. Max made a game effort but age and a tough foe conquered. Nova proved his right to a title go with Louis.

HEADY LOU

NEW YORK (UPI) — A "New York Times" reporter said he had a water glass in his hand as he held a woman in a rooming house after her arrest, and Miss Kent in 11 months.

He was asked to say a few words for the benefit of news papers on the newsmen and pas sers by.

In the full glare of the bright lights someone yelled "Good-bye, Lou."

And Lou the reporter looked his one good eye and quipped "Is the sound in my teeth?"

Casey Stengel's Bees } Tom Early Makes
Prove Ideal Fighters } Hit at Beehive

By BILL GRIMES

Although they have wound up on the short end of 13 of their last 16 starts, the Bees are hustling as though they were fighting for first place.

And if Tony Cuccinello returns to the lineup, the boys who are now "reading" the Bees will be the first to climb on the band wagon when the Stengeleers begin to click. . . . The Bees could have folded up after the Reds scored three runs in the 7th and their actions would have been unnoticed. . . . But, they put on a rally and evened the count. . . . Then they showed rare gameness by squaring the count again in the 10th. . . . Lack of hustle and absence of courage are not among the Bees' shortcomings.

The Red Sox pinned Baseball's Buck Newsum's ears back yesterday, after a Hank Greenberg homer, with two aboard, had jumped the Tigers off to a three run lead. . . . The Croninmen not only overtook the Detroiters but when the game was over they were so far out in front that they were barely discernible. . . .

It was Elden Auker's first start against his old mates. . . . Joe Cronin, Jim Taber and Bobby Deery batted in ten of the Red Sox rallies. . . . The Big Boss set the pace with four. . . .

Tom Early, the former Mission High School hero, has been acquiring poise rapidly this spring. . . . He has been in organized ball less than two years. . . . So, naturally, there are many angles of the game with which he isn't familiar. . . . Casey Stengel retained Early because he believes that he Stengel is better qualified to instruct the youngster than a minor league manager. . . .

And, as soon as Tom Early has acquired a working knowledge of the A-B-C's of big league pitching, Stengel will work him at regular intervals. . . . Tom made one slip yesterday but otherwise, he showed to better advantage than he had in any game he played for the Bees.

Starting off with "Don't try to give me instructions" and winding up by stopping the Nova-Bear fight, Frankie Fulan was a very efficient referee.

Baer attempted to tell Fulan, "I'm receiving the pre fight instructions, how to break Fella's turn up."

Then the third man in the ring awarded the fourth and fifth rounds to Baer because Nova hit low.

He gave Lou the seventh round for a similar foul. . . . When Nova got the range of his face, Maxie could see that movie camera slipping out of his grasp. . . . So it was O. K. with him when Fulan stopped the bout. . . . If Lou Nova reaches the top of the heavyweight class, he'll make it the hard way, for he hasn't a flinching wallop.

Harold "Jug" McSpaden is an odds-on favorite to top the New England qualifiers in the P. G. A. test today at Wannamisset. . . . "Jug" had a 71 yesterday on his first whirl at that under-parer Rhode Island course. . . . Dick May, Metacomet, was operated on for appendicitis on Saturday and he's in a hospital today instead of battling for one of the eight berths allotted this section by the P. G. A. . . . Emory Stratton will make his first appearance on a state team after 1934, when he plays in the inter-state matches at Oyster Harbors tomorrow. . . .

Johnny Igoe, who started Babe Ruth on his way to a fortune, is back in circulation, after five weeks in the Baker Memorial Hospital. . . .

SUDDEN DEATH ON INDIANAPOLIS SPEEDWAY

1—Six Pictures, Taken in a Little Over Six Seconds . . . Here Bob Swanson's Car Runs Wild

4—The Flames Roar . . . Swanson (right) Is Thrown Clear of the Indianapolis Racers

2—One Racer Misses, but Second Hits . . . as 150,000 Racing Fans Thrill to the Kill

5—Two Heaps of Junk . . . and Roberts (right) Lies Motionless on Grease-Spattered Track

3—It's Floyd Roberts, Piled Atop Swanson's Car . . . There's a Puff of Smoke

6—Miles in 30 Seconds . . . Too Fast to See, and Chet Miller's Car Smashes Into Wreckage

Newsreel of Death—Movie camera catches death amok on Indianapolis Speedway, when 150,000 kill-thrilled spectators saw Floyd Roberts die in the grinding terror of a three-car smashup. These pictures tell the story.
